

What About The Proposed Charter?

(To determine just what the proposed charter will do for the city of Kingston, the columns of The Freeman will be open to any question on the document. The questions will be turned over to the Charter Revision Commission for answering and will appear in this column from time to time as they are asked and answered.)

The new charter provides for the Mayor to appoint the Superintendent of the Water Department and makes the Superintendent subordinate to the Superintendent of the Department of Public Works. Why was this done?

Under the present system, each department is governed by a different board, each composed of five members. These members never meet to discuss matters pertaining to their various departments. The several departments are conducted independently of each other and without regular consultation with each other, each under a different head. Yet, the work of both the Water Department and Public Works Department with the city is concerned with work on the public streets, for the same municipality, and trying to serve the same master, the taxpayers of the city.

In the past, the Board of Public Works has built streets, having no knowledge as to whether the requirements of the Water Board have been complied with. The Water Board, lacking in the same knowledge, proceeds in due time to tear up the same street for the purpose of installing water mains or pipes. This duplication of work and coordination has cost the taxpayers plenty and will probably continue to do so if not changed.

There should be a free exchange of trucks and equipment between the two departments. After all they are both working for the same boss, the people of the City of Kingston.

The Board of Public Works has a garage, where competent mechanics are hired to make repairs. This should be a municipal garage where the work of all city departments should be done, not only the Public Works Department. If the new charter is adopted, this can be done.

Before the installation last year of the 12,000 gallon gasoline tank, the various city departments were buying gasoline in small quantities at high prices. Now gasoline is purchased in tank car lots for less than seven cents a gallon and all the departments of the city have been invited to buy their truck gasoline at this municipal tank. This is one example of the economies that may be effected by departmental cooperation which will be greatly increased if the new charter is adopted.

The city of Poughkeepsie, which has a very difficult water supply problem because they must take their water from the Hudson river and purify it, has for many years had the Water Department and the Public Works Department coordinated with highly satisfactory results and full public approval, in the same manner as is proposed in the new charter.

In a recent address before the P. T. A., former Mayor Carey endorsed the new charter but said he would not have abolished the Water Board. Why do you think it is a good idea to abolish this board?

The members of the Water Board, five in number, are all successful business and professional men. They are not hydraulic engineers, nor have they a profound knowledge of the science of water supply. Kingston has one of the best water supplies in the state. This has been brought about not by the knowledge of and experience in these matters by the Water Board but because the members of the Water Board were intelligent enough to hire the expert technical knowledge that designed and produced our water supply.

A well-known firm of consulting engineers from New York, who are experts in water supply, designed the present system. They have been since and still are in regular consultation with the Water Board, for which they are paid an annual retainer by the Water Board. Whenever a technical question arises as to dam construction or repair, water storage, water contamination, or other technical question arises, this firm is sent for and advises the Water Board. These specialists have been engaged for years and their services will be engaged if the new charter is adopted.

A water chemist from Troy is engaged by the Water Board, and is paid a monthly salary, to see that the purity of the water is at all times maintained.

There is no city officer or employee who possesses the specialized technical qualifications necessary to maintain our water supply in its present high state of efficiency. Board government means that those in charge of the department give only a small part of their time to the city's business, with a meeting once a month. This sometimes delays the public's business.

Under the new charter, the mayor, who is elected by the people, will appoint the superintendent of the Water Department, instead of the Water Board, who are not elected by the people. The Board of Estimate, composed of the mayor, commissioner of finance, and president of the Common Council, will fix the water rates.

In this way, officials selected by the people at the polls, and accountable to the people, will be responsible for the conduct of this department.

Haile Selassie I Asks United States To Urge Peace Upon the Italians

Emperor of Ethiopia Denies Aggressive Intentions Against Neighbors and Says Country is Willing to Cooperate, But Will Not Abandon Sovereign Rights—Denies Existence of Slave Trade as Calumny of Italy to Engender Hatred and Distrust.

U. S. Officials Are Silent On Plea of Selassie Today

Washington, July 5 (AP)—Confronted with a situation which apparently must be handled with gloves, American officials were silent today on Emperor Haile Selassie's plea to the United States to invoke the "Part of Paris" to avert threatened Italo-Ethiopian hostilities.

Secretary Hull awaited official confirmation of the emperor's appeal. "Because of delayed telegraphic communication with the mountain capital of 'The Conquering Lion of Judah' and the holiday here the Ethiopian appeal had not reached Hull."

It is expected, however, that William Perry George, secretary of the legation in Addis Ababa, will communicate with the State Department soon. Officials expressed the opinion that Hull will take no hurried action.

Observers here believed the emperor's psychologically-timed plea might tend to put the United States "on the spot" diplomatically.

If this country fails to make any move, Ethiopia, as well as other nations, might construe this lack of action as sidestepping obligations under the Kellogg-Briand pact.

If it recommends to other nations that the pact be invoked, it might stir up Italian wrath with far-reaching complications.

Newburgh Comments On Action of Firemen

The Newburgh News comments editorially on the action of representatives of the Kingston volunteer fire companies in deciding to oppose the proposed new charter, because one section of the charter is not written as they believe it should be. The News says:

Something akin to sensation has been caused in Kingston by action of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association in denouncing the city's proposed charter "so far as it applies to the fire department." Public spirited officials and citizens of Kingston are united in an effort to modernize their municipal government. They plan a system similar to city manager administration, with however the mayor acting as the chief official. The charter has been drawn up by a representative commission of citizens. Kingston is now operating under efficient methods which are neither old nor economical.

The firemen take umbrage at this clause in the charter: "The Fire Department shall, as to its membership and component parts, remain as now constituted until the same shall be changed by action of the Common Council."

Apparently Kingston firemen do not believe that Council, representing citizens, should exercise control over the department, or at least should have power to make any changes calculated to improve its efficiency. This is a strange position for firemen to take. In effect it asserts that the department is an independent agency, even though funds for its maintenance come from citizens, and that it need answer to no one.

If such an attitude may be assumed by the fire department, why not by the police department? What would become of municipal government under such circumstances?

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $26,276,244.08; expenditures $196,650,522.71. (Including $42,605,223.01 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures $169,774,278.63; gross debt $28,662,525,155.78; a decrease of $3,383,165.00 under the previous day; gold assets $3,116,625,203.12.

Plymouth, Mass., July 5 (AP)—The 47th annual convention of the Loyal Order of Moose closed today with the installation of supreme officers on Plymouth Rock, where pilgrim feet first trod. Election of the supreme council officers concluded the convention's business sessions yesterday. They are: William H. East, Long Island City, N. Y.; William N. Smith, Rochester, N. Y.; Captain Henry W. Baskin, Detroit, Mich.; William J. Hamilton, Oakland, Calif.; and Judge Darius H. Brown, Kansas City, Mo.

4 Persons Killed

Berlin, July 5 (AP)—Six persons, a pilot and five mechanics, were killed today when a trial plane crashed through the roof of a house at Britz, a Berlin suburb near Tempelhof Air-drome. The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

(Editor's Note: Ethiopia is willing to collaborate with any nation for peace, as long as her independence and integrity are not threatened. Emperor Haile Selassie asserts in a special article for The Associated Press. (The emperor, who has appealed to the United States to urge peace upon Italy, says his country intends to pursue even its greatest need—an outlet to the sea—by peaceful means.)

By Emperor Haile Selassie I of Ethiopia.

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press) Addis Ababa, July 5.—Ethiopia has no aggressive intentions against her neighbors.

That if my answer to accusations that we are seeking an outlet to the sea by violent means across neighboring colonies.

It is a fact that Ethiopia needs an outlet to the sea, but we shall obtain it by agreement with one or another of our neighbors by ordinary diplomatic means.

The accusation has been made that Ethiopia refuses to collaborate with European powers, mainly Italy. Ethiopia does not refuse to collaborate with any country, but collaboration does not mean to abandon sovereign rights.

It has also been brought to my attention that I am accused of dislike of strangers, cultivation of territorial and political ambitions against adjoining colonies and also inciting African people to revolt against Europeans.

Foreigners like Americans and Europeans established in Ethiopia for a long time are better able to appreciate the reception and hospitality they enjoy in Ethiopia.

Concerning exciting African peoples against Europeans, this is an idea that hasn't even skinned my mind.

It has come to my notice that Ethiopia is still accused of maintaining a slave trade.

The laws published by the government to attain abolition of slavery applied normally, and the accusations against Ethiopia are calumny today multiplied by Italy for political aims.

No Slave Trade.

The slave trade exists no more. "With what intention has Ethiopia started reorganization, modernization and development of her army?" it has been asked.

The answer is: Reorganization of the Ethiopian army is a necessity for realization of a program of reforms instituted by the imperial government to permit means to apply reforms, maintain internal order in all provinces of the empire and accomplish international duties.

In connection with our program of reforms we are ready to accept collaboration with foreign powers, when and if such collaboration brings no prejudice toward the political integrity of Ethiopia, the same idea held by Menelik (former emperor).

Ethiopia has her own civilization deeply rooted and different from western civilization.

It is difficult and even dangerous to use violent, rapid methods because it is impossible to superimpose one civilization on another.

Perhaps certain of our European friends consider our progress slow, but those who know the mentality of our people will understand the importance of the reforms accomplished.

HARNETT WARNS AGAINST PICKNICKERS USING TRUCKS

Albany, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—A warning against the transportation of picnic parties in commercial motor trucks was sounded today by Charles A. Harnett, state commissioner of motor vehicles.

"Open trucks without seats or other accommodations," Commissioner Harnett said, "are frequently used by picnic parties, and young and old are compelled to stand in conveyances commonly used in transporting freight or merchandise. One or more persons are occasionally thrown to the ground and injured when the vehicle stops suddenly or passed over ruts in the road."

Police Sergeant Held

New York, July 5 (AP)—Police Sergeant Frank J. Donnelly was held without bail today pending a hearing Monday on a charge of slaying his wife at her Rockaway Beach, Long Island, apartment. Donnelly pleaded not guilty to the charge yesterday. His attorney indicated that a claim of self defense will be made when Donnelly comes to trial, contending that he shot his wife after she drew a gun during a quarrel over her separation allowance. The Donnelly's were married six years after her first husband, Patrolman Arthur J. Kennedy, dying from a burglar's bullet, pleaded with Donnelly to "take care of Maria."

New Deal Circles May Consider Broadening Tax - the - Wealth Plan

Believe Revenue Would Not Live Up to Expectations If New Taxes Were Levied Only on the Very Wealthiest.

HEARINGS MONDAY

Committee Will Begin Hearings Next Monday With Treasury Experts on the Stand.

Washington, July 5 (AP)—New Deal circles are studying the advisability of broadening the tax-the-wealth program to reach into the middle income brackets as well as the $1,000,000-a-year class.

Some legislators and experts feel that if the new taxes are levied only on the very wealthiest persons, the revenue resulting would not live up to expectations.

This disclosure came after a White House conference in which plans were laid to push ahead with the tax plan and enact it this session, despite Republican demands that the whole question go over to a special session in the fall.

Meanwhile critics of the plan were giving an inkling of the arguments they will use when it comes to the debate stage. Senator Metcalf (R-R. I.), in a Fourth of July address, called on the country to "register a powerful objection to the levying of confiscatory taxes in order to gain the political support of Socialists and radicals of every stripe."

The American Liberty League called the President's plan a "transparent political gesture."

Chairman Doughton, (D-N. C.), who attended the White House conference, disclosed that the question of extending tax revision to lower brackets than previously indicated has been discussed.

Doughton's committee will begin hearings Monday, with treasury exhibits on the stand. No specific tax bill will be before the committee.

President Roosevelt's tax message mentioned no specific rates on inheritances, individual incomes or gifts. However, Senator Harrison (D-Miss.), has laid before the Senate Finance Committee a schedule which would alter present rates only on incomes of more than $1,000,000 a year.

Returns to Detroit

New York, July 5 (AP)—Merton Ward Goodrich, confessed slayer of 11-year-old Lillian Gallagher, will be taken back to Detroit today to answer for that crime and to face questioning about numerous other unsolved crimes against children in which Detroit authorities believe he may be involved. The trip will be made by train instead of airplane as was originally planned because of the 27-year-old trap drummer's personal plea to Duncan C. McCrea, Wayne county, Mich., prosecutor. Goodrich told McCrea that he was in deadly terror of going up in an airplane. The confessed slayer, his wife, Florence, charged with her husband in concert, by aiding her husband to escape, and their guards will leave New York at 5:20 o'clock this afternoon (eastern daylight time) on the Pennsylvania Railroad's "Detrolter."

Two Men Die

Hackensack, N. J., July 5 (AP)—Two men died today from injuries received celebrating Independence Day. Antonio Patone, 54, of 133 Frederick street, Garfield, died in Hackensack Hospital of injuries received when a bomb exploded in his hand while he visited friends at Lodi. Both arms and one leg were torn by the blast. John Dambrosia, 37, of (Second street) Park Ridge, died in Hackensack General Hospital of injuries sustained when a shot gun he was cleaning to use for celebrating the day went off.

Falls to Death

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Apparently losing her footing as she was hanging clothes on the roof of an apartment building (2291 Corleight Rd.), Josephine Mana, 18, a maid, fell to her death in the courtyard below today. Employed by Samuel Gerstein, she came here recently from Clymer, Pa.

195 Dead, Thousands Hurt in Many Accidents In Nation on July Fourth

Midwest Counted 79 Deaths, With Only Two Deaths in General Survey Attributed Directly to Fireworks.

MAN DROPS 2,000 FEET

Massachusetts State Trooper, Escorted Governor, Injured Critically When Thrown.

(By The Associated Press)

The nation counted at least 195 dead today, with thousands more injured, as the cost of celebrating its 159th birthday.

The total of accidental deaths on Independence Day compared with the 177 recorded last year, the fewest in six years, and 483 killed on the Fourth of July, 1931, the costliest holiday for the same period.

The Midwest with 79 holiday deaths was far ahead of other sections of the country. The mountain states reported only nine deaths. New England had 10.

Other sections recorded: Mid-Atlantic, 27; south, 28; southwest, 28; Pacific, 14.

Only two deaths were directly attributed to fireworks, an Associated Press survey showed. The majority of lives lost were due to automobile accidents and drowning as the "safe and sane Fourth" appeared more generally in vogue. Autos killed 82, and 77 were drowned.

Sprinkled through reports were accounts of deaths from airplanes, train wrecks, electrocutions, shootings, falls and the heat. Deaths from such causes totaled 34.

Added to those dead were the injured, estimated in the thousands from many causes. New Jersey reported 325 persons treated in hospitals for fireworks burns, while Chicago police received reports of only 26 persons so injured. St. Louis had 312 known fireworks victims.

Among the spectacular accidents which marked the day's entertainment was one at St. Clair Shores, Mich., in which a man was carried 2,000 feet into the air as he held the guide rope of a balloon and then dropped to his death.

Escort Is Hurt

Newton, Mass., July 5 (AP)—Joseph N. Noone, State Trooper, injured yesterday while escorting Governor James M. Curley's official car along the Boston-Worcester turnpike, remained in critical condition today in the Newton Hospital.

Noone, married only recently, suffered a fractured skull as his motorcycle skidded and threw him over the handlebars. He is attached to the Grafton barracks of the state police.

There were conflicting accounts of the accidents, which occurred on a steep hill on a section of the turnpike which runs through Newton. Lieutenant Colonel Paul G. Kirk, head of the State Police, said it was his "impression" the Governor was in his machine at the time of the accident, but one Boston newspaper (The Record) quoted the chief executive as saying he was in a second car with Major Joseph Timilty of his military staff. The Governor could not be reached and was not on the scene when Newton police arrived.

State Police Sergeant Arthur O'Leary, the Governor's personal bodyguard, told Newton police that Noone was attempting to pass an automobile and that when it would not give him a safe clearance he applied his brakes. His motorcycle skidded, throwing him over the handlebars, O'Leary said.

The Governor's car swerved sharply to the left to avoid hitting the prostrate officer, leaped a high curb on a reservation in the center of the highway and struck a small tree, toppling over.

The machine was damaged, but none of the passengers was hurt.

Less than two months ago a Boston motorcycle policeman, escorting the Governor to his home from an American Legion memorial service in Boston, was killed when his machine struck a tree.

Maneuvers Private

London, July 5 (AP)—Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, informed the house of commons today that naval attaches were to be the only foreign officers to watch the review of the British fleet July 14 at Spithead. At the same time it was learned that crown these attaches will be barred from attending the war game maneuvers which the fleet will undertake on the following day. The present tension in Europe and the increasingly uncertain outlook for a naval limitation agreement to replace the Washington treaty of 1922 were regarded as responsible for the issuance of such orders.

Mayor To Discuss Charter

Mayor Heiseleman will be the guest of the Downtown Republican Club at the open meeting on Wednesday evening, July 10, at which time he will deliver an address on the proposed charter. At the conclusion of his speech he will answer any questions and discuss the provisions. The public is cordially invited to attend this very important and interesting meeting at 8:15 o'clock.

Roosevelt Signs Wagner Labor Bill as Important Step To Industrial Peace

Friend Predicts Return of Hapsburgs to Power

Brussels, July 5 (AP)—A royalist close to young Archduke Otto of Hapsburg, pretender to the Austrian throne, predicted today early restoration of the monarchy.

While negotiations for an enthronement of "Kaiser Otto I" in Vienna swung to his seat of exile here, the royalist said all obstacles to prompt restoration have been cleared but one—the opposition of Prince Ernst von Starhemberg.

The 22-year-old pretender himself said, "I do not deny that negotiations are in progress, but I regret that I cannot now discuss the matter."

Otto is living in exile with his mother, the former Empress Zita, and other members of their family. The royalist whose identity was withheld asserted:

"We count on his return to Austria within a few weeks after the anti-Hapsburg laws are abolished. 'After Otto's return, the restoration of the throne itself may not be a matter of more than a couple of months.'"

Return of Property.

Vienna, July 5 (AP)—A return of the Hapsburg properties to the ancient royal family—regarded as another step toward the restoration of the monarchy—moved nearer fulfillment today with the approval of the council of state.

The council accepted the measure to "right the wrongs done the Hapsburg family" yesterday, as has Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's cabinet. The bill lacked only the approval of the federal diet and the president's signature to become law, and was expected to be enacted by July 10.

Fourth Was Noisy With Few Accidents

Several Children Had Fingers And Hands Burned By Fireworks, But No Serious Mishap Reported—Auto Traffic Light And No Crashes Reported to Police Department.

The Fourth of July was noisy in Kingston, but no serious accidents were reported here. As usual several children sustained burned fingers and hands from fireworks, but none was seriously hurt. Auto traffic for a holiday was light through the city, and not an accident was reported to the police department.

The noise of fireworks filled the air in the city from early dawn until midnight on the Fourth but fortunately no serious accidents from exploding fireworks were reported, although several children were burned about the fingers and hands. Among those treated at the Kingston Hospital on the Fourth were George Wolff, 10, of 65 West Union street, who received bruises, burns and cuts on all five fingers of one hand; William Glaser, 6, of 40 Flatbush avenue, bruises and blisters on the second finger of one hand; John Joy, 13, of 755 Broadway, burned and bruised on a finger; Cecelia Duffy, 12, of R. D. city, lacerated right hand, and William White, 12, of this city, powder burns on one hand.

Wednesday afternoon Victor Wheeler, 12, of 87 Cedar street, reported to the police that Fred Lowe, 12, of North Front street, had shot him in the arm with a blank cartridge pistol.

Auto traffic through the city was unusually light for a holiday, and the number of cars on the streets did not exceed the number that are usually out on a sunny Sunday. The police department had arranged to care for traffic and as a result no auto accidents in the city were reported during the day.

The city parks were filled during the day and evening, and many families who had automobiles arranged to take the family out for a ride and outing.

MRS. HELLMAN INURED WHEN HER SEDAN LEAVES THE ROAD

The Lincoln sedan of Richard Hellman, being driven to his summer home at Coldbrook, left the road near the Haines place on the Plank Road, Wednesday evening and went into the ditch when the right front wheel cut Mrs. Hellman out her forehead when the car rolled and was taken to the Kingston Hospital, where the injury was treated. A young child and a nurse who were riding in the car were uninjured.

Daniel Enlace of Scarsdale, the chauffeur, told Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg, who happened along at the time, that this was the first time during the 12 years he had driven the car that he had had anything in the nature of an accident.

13 Paralysis Deaths

Raleigh, N. C., July 5 (AP)—North Carolina today counted 13 deaths from infantile paralysis since the malady became widespread in a group of 10 east central counties. The toll was raised to thirteen when Luther Dean, 18, died in Granville county. Through July 3, the total number of cases for the year was 248, health department records showed. Most occurred since May 1. Commons.

Measure, One of Administration's "Must" Items, Designed to Supersede Section 7-A; New Labor Board of 3 Members.

"MAGNA CARTA"

Industry Opposes Measure and Court Test of Constitutionality May Follow Enactment.

Washington, July 5 (AP)—The Wagner Labor Bill, President Roosevelt today described it "as an important step toward the achievement of just and peaceful labor relations in industry."

Among other things, the measure guarantees labor the right to bargain collectively.

In an accompanying statement Mr. Roosevelt explained that the new National Labor Relations Board provided by the legislation would serve purely as a quasi-judicial body to assure employees the right to collective bargaining.

The President expects to name within the month this new important board, replacing the present Labor Relations Board which goes out of existence.

Roosevelt Statement

The statement of the President follows:

"This act defines, as a part of our substantive law, the right of self-organization of employees in industry for the purpose of collective bargaining, and provides methods by which the government can safeguard that right."

"It establishes a national labor relations board to hear and determine cases in which it is charged that this legal right is abridged or denied, and to hold fair elections to ascertain who are the chosen representatives of employees."

"A better relationship between labor and management is the high purpose of this act."

"By assuring the employees the right of collective bargaining it fosters the development of the employment contract on a sound and equitable basis."

"By providing an orderly procedure for determining who is entitled to represent the employees, it aims to remove one of the chief causes of wasteful economic strife."

"By preventing practices which tend to destroy the independence of labor, it seeks for every worker within its scope, that freedom of choice and action which is justly his."

"The national labor relations board will be an independent quasi-judicial body. It should be clearly understood that it will not act as mediator or conciliator in labor disputes."

"The function of mediation remains, under this act, the duty of the secretary of labor and of the conciliation service of the department of labor."

"It is important that the judicial function and the mediation function should not be confused."

"Compromise, the essence of mediation, has no place in the interpretation and enforcement of the law."

"This act, defining rights, the enforcement of which is recognized by the Congress to be necessary as both an act of common justice and economic advance, must not be misinterpreted."

"It may eventually eliminate one major cause of labor disputes, but it will not stop all labor disputes. It does not cover all industry and labor, but is applicable only when violation of the legal right of independent self-organization would burden or obstruct interstate commerce."

"Accepted by management, labor and the public with a sense of sober responsibility and a willing cooperation, however, it should serve as an important step toward the achievement of just and peaceful labor relations in industry."

A "Must" Measure

One of the administration's "must" measures at this session of Congress, the bill, designed to supersede the now dead section 7-A of the National Recovery Act, would set up a new National Labor Relations Board of three members, yet to be appointed.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, calls the act "Labor's Magna Carta." Industry generally opposes it, and its enactment probably will result in a long series of court tests of its constitutionality.

British Relieved

London, July 5 (AP)—Well-informed British sources said today that Ethiopia's invocation of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact was to be regarded as a serious development in the situation between Ethiopia and Italy. An air of relief was noted in official circles because of Ethiopia's action in appealing to the United States as a guarantor of the pact. The moment, at least, relieved Great Britain of her isolated position in trying to avert the threatened war in Africa. This British position was not, as yet, regarded as strong support, health department records showed. Most occurred since May 1. Commons.

Austria To Tax Childless Homes
Vienna (AP)—A tax on all childless persons, in addition to the bachelor tax already collected in Austria, is being considered here. The son of a "Reichspost" argues that it would have the double advantage of bringing in new revenue and counteracting the rapidly falling birth rate.

A 21 per cent improvement in Arizona ranges over 1934 has been reported by the agricultural statistician stationed at Phoenix.

Great Britain Mobilizes Inventors To Produce Air Defense Devices

By ALBERT W. WILSON.
London (AP)—As Britain presses forward its military air expansion program, an augmented force of inventors and experts is speeding up simultaneously the modernization of devices for defence against enemy air raids.

Fantastic reports of these inventions and improvements have reached the ears of observers for foreign governments, most of which are cast aside as purely imaginative. But despite the strictness with which air ministry secrets are guarded, some information has leaked out from authoritative quarters.

Even before the government recently exhibited its radio-controlled plane it was revealed by a competent authority that Britain had perfected such a robot of the air. It was said this machine could drop bombs whenever desired and keep up a machine-gun attack by radio control from the ground. But reports that it would explode in the midst of an enemy squadron were branded as untrue.

Nets for Enemy Planes.
Nets suspended between balloons to catch invading aircraft are being developed. It is understood that these have been perfected to the point where they carry an unusually large netting to the highest altitude desired. They are counted upon for defense especially in thick atmosphere, so often prevalent over London and at night.

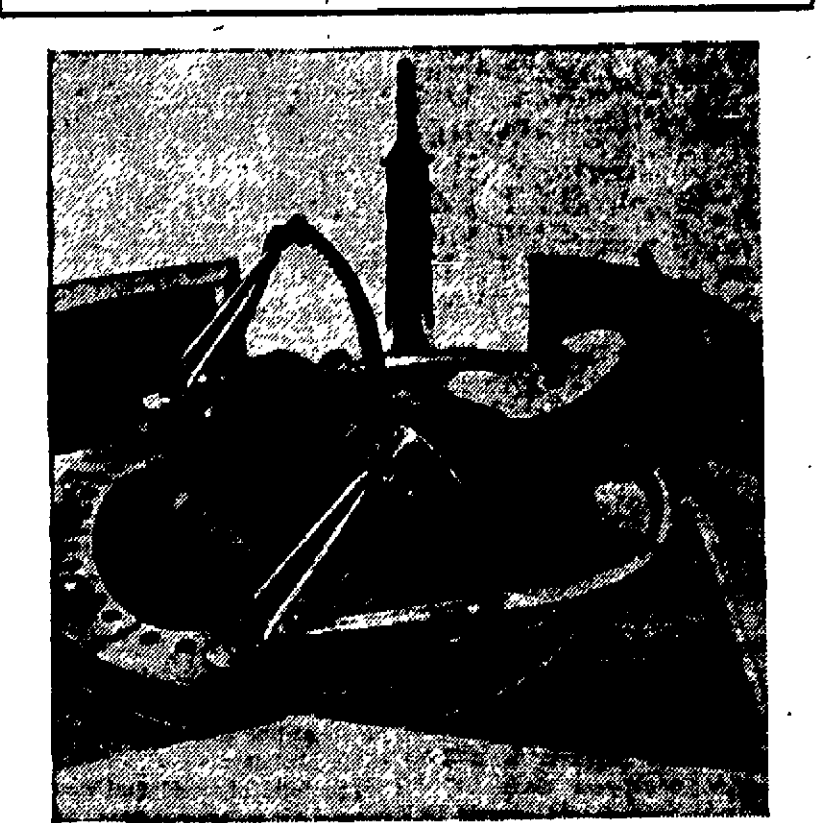

It is admitted that a powerful naval gun for use against planes attacking at sea, has been constructed, but details of this weapon are closely guarded. As for the land anti-aircraft guns, royal air force experts readily admit that the United States is far ahead of Britain.

Mobility of the British "guns" has been improved but the speed of the attacking planes is still a handicap which has not been satisfactorily overcome, experts state.

There is no decisive improvement either in the use of smoke screens to foil an enemy air force, it is admitted. The slightest breeze dissipates the smoke.

In the use of powerful searchlights and of a more recently developed invention, sound locators which can discover an attacking air force at a distance of many miles, the British government is understood to be making important progress.

Factories Under Pressure.

The program for trebling the British home defense air force is accompanied by a pressure on plane manufacturers. A heavy bomber of an advanced type, which was not to have been put into production before 1937, already is being built.

Norwegian Votes Favor 'He Men' Over Politicians

Oslo, Norway (AP)—The name of Captain Roald Amundsen, famous polar explorer and conqueror of both the North and South poles, is the most popular in Norway, according to a nationwide questionnaire.

The survey revealed the Norwegians as being primarily fond of adventure, sport and literature, with no absorbing interest in politics or science.

Closely following Amundsen in popularity was Fridtjof Nansen, with the national poet, Bjornstjerne Bjornson as number three.

Sonja Henle, world figure skating champion, ranked fourth, followed by Knut Hamsun, editor; Sigrid Undset, Nobel prize winner in literature; Henrik Ibsen, playwright, and Edvard Grieg, composer and musician.

At the bottom of the list, after a long array of champion ski jumpers, boxers and skaters, can be found Norwegian politicians.

FRENCH SMUGGLERS FANS DULL-NOSED CUSTOMS MEN.

Lyon, France (AP)—Gorgonzola cheese smuggling has become a pastime of traffickers of contraband who rely on decadent noses of customs guards to seek their redolent product across the French border.

An executive of a dairy company in northern France, Henri Gervais, was arrested for smuggling 18 tons of Italian gorgonzola into France.

Gervais, a Swiss citizen, is likewise sought by his own government for having fraudulently introduced Danish butter into Switzerland.

Young Astor on Apron String.

London (AP)—Lady Astor, the former Nancy Langhorne of Virginia, introduced her son, "Bill" Astor, as prospective parliamentary candidate for East Fulham. "My son will be the first young man who has a mother to guide him in parliament," she told a meeting of his supporters.

With a greater public appreciation of the basic values of farm life evident, rural areas will continue to attract enough people in the United States to reduce the danger of letting up a population in cities.

Consent to Transfer Of Bus Certificate

Albany, July 4.—The consent of the Public Service Commission has been given to the transfer of a certificate for the operation of a bus route between Kingston and Creek Locks in the town of Rosendale, Ulster county, from Raymond Reilly to William J. Deyo.

The commission also consented to the transfer of a half interest in the certificate from Mr. Deyo to Florence M. Jacquin. Both transfers are for a consideration of not to exceed $1.

The authority to transfer the certificate was granted on the condition that the order is not to be deemed as a determination by the commission of the value of any property transferred and also on the condition that William Deyo and Florence Jacquin shall promptly file with the commission proper tariff schedules and comply with all rules and regulations of the commission.

The certificate was originally granted to William J. Deyo and Hiram F. Clearwater and was transferred to Mr. Deyo and Mr. Reilly in 1930. The terms and conditions of the certificate issued in 1926 to Mr. Deyo and Mr. Clearwater are to remain in full force and effect and the operation of buses and the exercise of rights under the certificate issued to them at that time are to be taken as evidence of the acceptance and agreement of the conditions in the original certificate.

The testimony indicated that there is a need for public transportation along this route and that about 20 persons residing on the route are employed in Kingston and travel daily between their homes and places of business by means of the bus route. Other persons residing in the vicinity of Creek Locks use the bus in going to and from Kingston, which is the trading center for a large area. Five trips daily are operated over the seven mile route.

A report approved by the commission recommending approval of the transfer states that public convenience and necessity require a continuation of the bus operation between Creek Locks and Kingston and that therefore approval should be given to the transfer of the certificate now standing in the name of William J. Deyo and Raymond Reilly to William J. Deyo and Florence M. Jacquin.

Status Quo Good For Nazi Money Reichsbank Holds

By M. K. WHITELEATHER

Berlin (AP)—Germany is watching the gold bloc weaken but apparently has decided to let the devaluation parade march by without falling in line.

Reichsbank officials are understood to have fought their own internal battle and to have concluded that Germany's life could not be alleviated by further devaluation of the mark.

Fixing of a new gold parity after the dollar and pound are stabilized, however, is held not to be out of the question.

One Way Good As Other

There can be no question of taking the mark off gold, for it now is barely on gold. It is a managed currency with but 2.35 per cent of gold and foreign exchange coverage, as against an 80 per cent gold coverage, for example, of the French franc.

Such a currency, with an artificial value, say experts, can be managed at any parity so the present one is just as good as any other.

The government couldn't gain for budgetary use from a devaluation operation, for there isn't enough gold in the Reichsbank by which to gain.

Furthermore, Germany's economic position as a country lacking essential raw materials argues against lowering of the exchange rate of the mark, first because of the large quantities of raw materials it is necessary to buy abroad, and secondly because Germany's debts are labeled in foreign currencies.

Trade Gains Too Slight

A lower exchange rate would mean that more marks would have to be paid out for raw materials and for debts, should Germany ever decide to pay them.

Experts calculate that slight increases in foreign trade which might be expected from a cheaper mark would not offset the increased number of marks it would take to buy raw materials. More goods might be sold to the United States and to the Far East, but not in sufficient quantities to justify the act.

Despite the Nazis' energetic attempt to make themselves self-sufficient, they still must buy many products abroad—products gravely needed by a country in the full swing of rearmament.

SPEEDY RAIL AUTOMOBILES

MOVE PARIS NEARER SEA

Paris (AP)—The railroad automobile, the latest model of which made 122 miles an hour in tests, has brought Paris within two hours of the sea. Regular service cover the 142 miles to Le Havre within this time.

The combined use of ordinary trains and these rail automobiles has led to a great acceleration of service particularly in linking up the railway system with another.

Electrification of railways, which is being pushed in the south, also has brought speedier travel, and France now claims to have 58 per cent of the world's trains traveling at more than 62 miles an hour.

Now It's Caterpillar Savage

Bannock, Calif. (AP)—Local ranchers spent the best part of a solid week—day and night—battling vast armies of the cooing caterpillars which came down out of the mountains here and threatened to clean off every shrub and plant in Coachella valley.

Three bellies belonging to Edward Osterhout were killed during the severe storm which raged here on Saturday afternoon, when a tree, under which the animals had sought shelter, was struck by lightning.

ARTIST SELLS SHARES IN HIMSELF

Egg Quality in Warm Weather

Most poultrymen maintain the high quality of local eggs during warm weather, by proper handling, during warm weather, according to the Ulster County Farm Bureau. Proper handling means frequent collections, storing at 50 to 60 degrees, frequent marketing. The Farm Bureau has made careful studies and interesting results have been obtained. Any poultrymen that might be having difficulty in getting the highest possible quality of eggs on the market may secure information from the Farm Bureau. Farm visits will be gladly made on request.

Dusting, Spraying Garden Plants

All spraying and dusting should be done before a rain, not after, according to the Ulster County Farm Bureau. The reason is very obvious. Infection of practically all plant diseases occurs while it is raining or when the plants are wet. In controlling plant disease prevention should be practiced. Infected plants cannot be cured. Therefore, if the plants are covered with a fungicide during wet weather, they are protected. Plants need not be wet, have dusts stick to them. In supplying dusts quiet days should be chosen. Light and frequent applications of either dusts or sprays are much better than heavy doses. Heavy doses often retard plant growth. Plants should be covered at all times, particularly during rainy spells.

PORT EWEN

Supreme Court Justice Bleakley in White Plains Wednesday declared constitutional the law creating the State Mortgage Commission. In a decision of sweeping import, Justice Bleakley maintained the right of the commission to act under the new law, ruling for the commission on every germane point. The case has attracted wide attention because of the important and basic issues raised. The petition was to enjoin the State Mortgage Commission from assuming control of a $223,000 mortgage of the Westchester Title and Trust Company on an apartment house. It was brought in the name of Mrs. Anna Oberhammer of Mamaroneck. The decision on this claim has a direct effect on a greater portion of the approximately $800,000,000 certificated mortgages now under the control of the commission.

Stole Lead Packing From Water Mains

Three Kingston men, charged with stealing lead packing from eight-inch water pipes, prepared for the new water system at Phoenixia, Friday, were arrested by Troopers Reilly and Metzger and arraigned before Justice H. W. Clancy at Phoenixia this morning. They were fined $30 each with the alternative of spending 30 days in the Ulster county jail.

The three men taken into custody were Leon Gosselin, 32, Hunter street, Lewis Bell, 46, Foxhall avenue, and Robert Dunn, 28, of Gage street.

The lead rings stolen weigh about nine pounds each and the total value of the 40 rings as metal is around $20. To replace the packing in the pipes, however, will cost several hundred dollars.

In investigating the theft the troopers visited about every junk yard in this section, but did not find what they were looking for until they came to the yard of Robert Buck on Tompkins street. They state they arrived just in time as the stuff was loaded on a truck, ready for shipment to New York.

Bainville, Mont., July 5 (AP)—The Great Northern Railway's empire builder, transcontinental passenger train, plunged into a washout and was derailed early today, injuring 24 persons, at least 20 seriously. Eight cars of the 16 coach train jumped the tracks, four of them rolling over. The engine remained upright. The accident occurred at 2:30 a. m., shortly after a cloudburst washed away one thousand feet of track. First reports were that a wall of water swept down a hill, just ahead of the westbound flyer, preventing the operation of the block signal system.

The Danish-American Park

The Rebild National park of Denmark is a gift of the Americans of Danish ancestry to their homeland. The park is in the nature of a memorial center dedicated to the friendship existing between the two countries. Each year since 1912, when it was formally opened to the public, the park has been the scene of impressive ceremonies on Independence day. Twelve miles south of the seaport Asborg, it is situated in the wildest part of the Jutland peninsula and includes within its boundaries one of the country's largest and most beautiful heather moors. It was in 1902 that a group of American citizens of Danish birth purchased a tract of the Rebild hills with the object of making it the first national park of its kind in the world. In 1909 the acreage was turned over to the Danish government and dedicated as a Danish-American park.

Supervisors to Meet on Monday

Alfred Markle, chairman of the board of supervisors, has called a meeting of the board for Monday evening, July 8, at 8 o'clock. While the call states the meeting is called "for the transaction of such business as may be brought before said meeting" it is anticipated that there will be an effort made to break the deadlock which exists in the highway program question.

At present a program offered with the sanction of the county superintendent has been voted down by the Democratic members of the board who control. The plan offered by the Democrats and adopted by the board in a resolution at the last meeting has not been approved by the county superintendent. In order to bring the matter to a head both programs were sent to the State Highway Department by Mr. Loughran, county superintendent, with a note explaining that his proposed plan had been voted down. The other plan of the Democrats had not been signed as required by law and was returned with a suggestion by Mr. Bixby of the District office that a meeting be held at which the highway officials thresh out their differences and he suggested that he would attend such meeting and attempt to adjust matters if it were believed no agreement could be reached between the parties without a "referee".

Up to the present time no highway construction has been done this year.

Scotland Yard Solves Second Murder Puzzle

Cold Spring, N. Y., July 5 (AP).—The second speedy solution of a murder case within a week was recorded today by the new criminal investigation bureau of the state police.

Within a few days after Alfred E. Volckmann, 19-year-old Greenville butcher boy, had been named as the slayer of nine-year-old Helen Glenn, the bureau yesterday announced solution of the murder of Charles J. Williams, 32, of Lackawanna.

Lieut. E. O. Hageman of the "Scotland Yard," said Charles Melton, 32, of Beacon, confessed he killed Williams, a steam shovel operator employed on a construction job at Mattewan State Hospital, in a fight "over a woman". Williams' body was found at the bottom of a 75-foot ravine on the Cold Spring-Beacon highway last Sunday.

Melton, Lieut. Hageman said, was picked up on suspicion at Beacon Wednesday and confessed a short time later. He was arraigned on a first degree murder charge yesterday before Coroner George Logan at Philipstown, waived examination and was held for the Putnam county grand jury.

Williams died of a fractured skull, suffered, police said, when he was beaten over the head with a hammer. He also was stabbed about the face and pushed into the ravine from a bridge.

The knife and hammer were found near the end of the bridge.

'Farmer' Mussolini

This unusual pose of Premier Mussolini of Italy was taken as the husky dictator stripped to the waist and worked alongside farmers in the dust of a threshing machine on reclaimed government farmlands. Occasion was the celebration of beginning of the harvest season. (Associated Press Photo)

Medical Man Loved Music
Perhaps the most famous of medical men who have loved music was Will Roth, close friend of Johannes Brahms, and one of the greatest surgical pathologists in medical history, says H. G. Ziegler, the Health Magazine. His home in Vienna was the scene of frequent musical evenings, and many of Brahms' finest string quartets, vocal and piano duets were first heard there.

TEXAS IRRIGATION PROJECT
UNEARTHED GIANT SKELETONS

Hartington, Tex. (AP)—More than 20 skeletons, believed those of a race of Carankaways, giant grasshopper-eating Indians once inhabiting this part of the state, have been found near Hartington.

The skeletons were unearthed during construction of an irrigation project and show the men were four to six inches taller than the average man of today.

The Carankaways were said to have lived also on seafood, but are believed to have roamed the brush live animals, not building shelter of any kind.

AN AID TO YOUTHFUL BEAUTY

THE SENSIBLE WAY, EASY WAY, NATURAL WAY

Just Add Gruenwald's HONEY-MEEL LOAF
To Your Daily Menu.

HONEY-MEEL LOAF baked only by Gruenwald's Bakery is a combination of a liberal amount of Pure Honey, Whole Wheat Meal and Bran, plus other pure natural ingredients. It is scientifically baked and prepared into a delicious tasty loaf of bread which you will enjoy eating and ABOVE ALL, as an aid to youthful beauty!

Real beauty does not come from an outward make-up. These are only temporary self-satisfactions, and often suspicious as well as harmful. Real, cheerful, youthful beauty must come from within yourself. You cannot be happy and have youthful beauty if you are troubled with sluggishness and constipation.

Science has found that to resort to drug, which is only a temporary relief, is more often harmful because it is habit forming. Science has also found through years of careful research and experiment that the easiest and safest way is a natural way to rid yourself of sluggishness and constipation. That's why science has prepared this natural tasty food known as Gruenwald's HONEY-MEEL LOAF.

Pure Honey is recommended by leading doctors as a mild laxative. Whole Wheat Meal with just the right amount of Bran supplies the roughage and aids in preventing coagulation in the intestines. It stimulates the natural flow of digestive juices and helps to clear up the accumulative wastes from your system. It is the Long Accumulative Waste in your system that often causes skin eruptions, pimples, blemishes and a run down tired feeling. You owe it to yourself to try eating Gruenwald's HONEY-MEEL LOAF daily. It is a key to youthful beauty. Your grocer has it for you in a neat, attractive cellophane window wrapper.

Broadway: "The Age of Indiscretion." Paul Lukas as the husband chained down by a luxury loving wife, Madge Evans as the understanding part of an inevitable triangle, and a fine cast which also includes Helen Vinson, May Robson, David Jack Holt and Ralph Forbes all fit nicely into this drama of domestic unrest and help turn an ordinary plot structure into an enjoyable bit of entertainment.

Orpheum: "George White's Scandals." James Dunn, Alice Faye, Lydia Roberti, Ned Sparks, Arline Judge and George White give stand-out performances in this romance of a boy and girl who rise to success on Broadway only to falter through conceit and misunderstanding. A musical talkie, the show offers several well sung songs, some capable dancing and the usual amount of comedy.

Kingston: "Princess O'Hara" and "Black Sheep." Petite Jean Parker scores another triumph in the opening feature, a Damon Runyon story that bristles with sentiment and laughter. It tells of a girl who becomes a cab driver following the death of her father and of the boy she loves, who is a petty racketeer. With this as a plot structure, the show moves through many exciting incidents until love conquers all in the final stanza. "Black Sheep" is clever stuff, with Edmund Lowe well cast as a slick card shark. While playing his trade aboard boat, Mr. Lowe discovers that his son is being caught in the net of a lady thief. Through careful work, he gets his son out of difficulty. Tom Brown, Claire Trevor and Adrienne Ames are featured. Good entertainment.

Tomorrow
Broadway: "No More Ladies." Gay and completely sophisticated drama characterizes this latest Joan Crawford starring vehicle, a show that dazzles with elaborate settings and ultra-smart dialogue. All the display and general air of expensive living sort of story that tells of a girl who marries a play boy to reform him. The understanding between them states that both must be honest with the other. When playboy husband Robert Montgomery starts chasing the ladies all over the place, reformer wife Joan Crawford gives him a dose of his own medicine and starts going places with Franchot Tone. "It isn't so much the plot as the acting and the dialogue that make this show a winner. It is swiftly paced, filled with comic lines, and both Miss Crawford and Mr. Montgomery seem well cast. Laughs are supplied by Edna May Oliver and Charles Ruggles. Glittering entertainment of the comedy variety.

Kingston: Same.

College Tours Gain Interest

Ithaca, N. Y., July 5.—Tours to the New York state college of agriculture to see and study dairy cattle, beef cattle, and other livestock, and pastures, are gaining in popularity this year, reports Montgomery Robinson, professor of extension.

Groups make arrangements to come at anytime, but Friday is the most popular day, he says. It is also the most appropriate day for the department of animal husbandry. The typical group averages about fifty persons, both farmers and homemakers. The wives have an opportunity to go through the state college of home economics to study the latest in homemaking. Visitors from all parts of the empire state are represented on these tours.

Farmers who visit the college of agriculture have a chance to hear and to discuss problems of livestock growing and to inspect the dairy barns and herds, the horse barns, the beef cattle farm, the sheep farm, the swine farm, the pastures, farm buildings, and other "pointers" for the farm. As a rule, groups come to the college with a definite interest. Some prefer to give all their time to pastures, some to the dairy herds, and others, still, to the beef cattle, sheep, and swine.

Professor Robinson says definite schedules have been made to meet the needs and interests of the various groups. County agricultural or home demonstration agents, generally, organize tours at the request of farmers and make arrangements with the college of agriculture to sponsor them in Ithaca.

University of California bureau of public administration officials say 40,000 unidentified dead are buried in the United States yearly.

MEET the WIFE

MRS. HOMER S. CUMMINGS

When Mrs. Homer S. Cummings tells a story, and she tells many good ones, her most intent listener is her husband, the attorney general, who never is far from the side of his small, plump, dark-haired wife no matter how large the party Mrs. Cummings is famous for her informal Sunday night suppers where only those are invited who can talk brilliantly. . . . And they do. She likes to decorate with sheafs of calligraphy. . . . thereby starting a Washington feud. She is an omnivorous reader, and has traveled all over Europe many times. Governor LaFollette of Kentucky has just appointed Mrs. Cummings "Admiral of Rock Castle River," but her husband calls her "Colonel Pickle." She calls him "Pickle." They grin when asked to explain the "Colonel."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — In Hollywood the male of the species is often condemned by sticklers for his carelessness in dress. Rosalind Russell, a vivid actress as well as a candidate for the flimsiest mythical title of best-dressed woman, thinks Hollywood's males are not alone in sartorial laxness. And there are two masculine clothes faults, she says, the presence of which in a man would kill his chances—with her, at least. "If he were trying to convince her of anything from a proposal of marriage to the advisability of buying a carpet sweeper."

Taboo Blue Shirts

The first fault is "the waistcoat that doesn't quite meet the trouser top and allows the shirt to be visible between." The second is blue shirts, which "may be all right for an office, but after office hours they should be removed and hidden." Miss Russell, always an interesting talker, in virtually no time has made her mark both as a film actress and as a recognized "fashion dresser." Ordinarily she is one of man's ardent champions in her views, but in the matter of dressing—

"Every husband and wife knows that little words start big wars," she says. "These for example: 'I've put out your evening clothes, dear. Would you mind wearing them to-night?'" "He could be dressed and undressed ten times during the time he wastes screaming about it. But a man should get over the idea that a woman is 'picking on him' because she is interested in his appearance. She knows the value of being well dressed."

Well-Groomed Salesmen

Men forget, when they wonder what other men will think of the bright ties they're wearing, that for the most part they are dressing for women, says Miss Russell.

"Woman is the world's greatest shopper—and she buys from men. Men sell her all her household necessities, often they sell her dress goods, always her groceries. In fact there are very few things women purchase through other women. For this reason I think men would gain in their dealings with women, and through her influence their dealings with men, if they would spend a little more thought on personal appearance."

MOVIE-STRUCK FIREMEN FILM LONDON'S BLAZES

London, (AP)—London's firemen, whose monumental gold helmets are a never-ending source of delight to tourists, have gone completely movie-minded.

At their request, the London County Council has bought them a $600 camera and a stock of film so they may take their own pictures of the more choice flames they attend.

A film company has agreed to train members of the brigade in the use of the camera, to develop the negatives and give them prints.

Fined $10 on Slot Machine Charge

Claude Barringer of West Park was fined $10 by Judge Henry E. McKenzie of Port Ewen Wednesday afternoon when arraigned in court on a charge of possession of a combination game and slot machine. Troopers N. Baker and A. Klein of New Paltz placed the defendant under arrest when it was apparent money was being paid by a machine in the place. Some time ago a clean-up was made of slot machines which paid money in turn for play and following that clean-up a number of varieties of machines which were considered "sportsmen's games" or skill games came out. This type of machine has not been bothered and have been permitted to operate. The return of money paying machines in various places has caused District Attorney Cleon B. Murray to issue a request that wherever these illegal machines are found arrests be made. The West Park arrest was the first in the campaign to clean up the county.

Laws May Be Stringent
Moscow, July 5 (AP).—Soviet statistics disclosing an increase in the number of divorces aroused a movement today for reforms to make Russia's divorce laws more stringent.

Sponsors of the government-inspired drive sought alterations of the laws so that divorces—which may be had now for the mere registration of the desire—would be refused unless there is an agreement for support of the children. The number of marriages broken in Moscow during the month of May was disclosed as 44 per cent greater than the number of marriages contracted. Most of the applicants for divorce were women.

Events Around The Empire State

Rochester, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—Congress can "confer no greater blessing on America than adjourn." Representative James W. Wadsworth, Republican, said today at his home at Genesee where he is spending the weekend.

"There is nothing to be gained by carrying on this session and continually agitating business and private initiative," said the long-time foe of the New Deal administration.

Penn Yan, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—This village and environs today cleaned up today after a freak rainstorm which late yesterday sent torrents of water down the hillsides to cover highways and fields with a foot of debris.

Striking in late afternoon the storm swept the north end of Lake Keuka but did not touch the southern area below Branchport where the Keuka Yacht Club was holding its yacht races.

It was feared vineyards suffered heavy damage as the water swept away valuable topsoil from the hillsides. The rainfall was estimated at 2.39 inches, heaviest on record for a three-hour period here.

New York, July 5 (AP)—Terming New York state's method of controlling race track betting—permitting placing of wagers at the track but banning it elsewhere—"ridiculous as well as hypocritical," Magistrate Jonah Goldstein yesterday dismissed bookmaking charges against five men.

Canandaigua, N. Y., July 5 (AP)—One man is dead and another near death today as the result of what Coroner Leon A. Stetson said was an attempted murder and a suicide. The wounded man is Arthur Johnson, 48, of Canadice, who, the coroner said, was shot by his son-in-law, Charles Toland, 39. Toland, Dr. Stetson, said, shot after a family quarrel.

Python, World's Largest Snake; Anaconda, Second

The largest snake in the world is the python. The anaconda is second and the boa third.

Fantastic stories are told about these great serpents swallowing oxen and tigers. Such feats are impossible. A python might possibly kill them by crushing them in its mighty folds, but the largest animal it could dispose of at a meal is a dog or a goat.

The netted python of Asia, Indo-China, and the Malay Archipelago, which sometimes exceeds 80 feet in length, is the largest of the pythons. Its color is light yellowish-brown with squarish black markings. Savage in disposition, inhabiting low-lying and hot regions, it grows slowly and probably lives to a great age. Pythons hang motionless from trees by their prehensile tails, or lurk in grass or water for their unsuspecting victims, which consist chiefly of birds, rodents, and other small animals. They are greatly dreaded by the natives of the regions they inhabit.

The python lays from 50 to 100 eggs, around which the female coils her great body for two months before they are hatched.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Alibi Runs Speeder to Hospital, Then Court

Cleveland.—A "perfect alibi" failed, so John Gilbert had to appear before Police Judge Jacob Stael to answer charges of speeding 64 miles an hour down an East side street here. When a motorcycle policeman stopped Gilbert, the latter said he was taking his wife to a hospital. Huston sped ahead of the Gilbert car with siren screaming, clearing the way of traffic and pedestrians. At the hospital, attaches said Gilbert had made no reservation, doctors said nothing was wrong with Mrs. Gilbert, and Huston booked, Gilbert for speeding.

BARBARA BELL FASHION PATTERNS

Pattern No. 1693-B

Smart "Little" Frock. Easy to Make. Easy to Wear

Made in just four pieces, today's pattern is the easiest thing in the world to put together. Nobody could make it in an hour or two, we think, and the time and effort, and cost, is no indication of its chic. The dress is a one-piece affair, darted at the waist to make it fit perfectly. There are pleats at the sides of the skirt for fullness, and there are no armholes to fuss with, just abbreviated little raglan sleeves that defy you to make them seem intricate. A round collar finishes the neck, which is slit for a way down the front of the blouse. And that is all there is to it.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1693-B is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires about 3 1/2 yards 36-inch material.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

For spic and span freshness on hot days—wash frocks.

Liana Merwin

During the warm weather season one cannot have too many frocks of the washable variety—those practical and serviceable kind that continue to look spic and span even after frequent laundering. They serve for so many occasions whether one stays at home or sojourns at a vacation retreat.

Linens and cottons, being ideally suited to the purpose, are used to fashion the latest summer styles in such fabrics as pique, seersucker, gingham, percales, dimity and the ever popular linen weaves, with prints, checks, plaids, dots and plain colors about equally divided in favor.

The tailored tub frock at right is of two-piece tuck-in styling in shirt-waist effect, using shell pink linen effectively. The front bodice is smartly pleated and other details include Peter Pan collar, short sleeves and pearl buttons for finishing. A generous kick pleat is placed at front for comfortable hem width in walking.

The style pictured at left is a one-piece model of sheer seersucker with sun back and halter neckline. This pretty model uses white seersucker trimming accents for lapels and collar while the belt and two patch pockets are of self material. The skirt also displays a kick pleat at center front.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, July 5.—During Miss Florence Webster's absence there will be no meetings of her discussion groups at the library. A number of groups is being planned to begin soon after the second week in July. It would simplify the traffic problem in the village during road construction, if no cars would park on the corners, or on the side of the road under immediate construction. Several serious traffic jams have resulted recently because of cars parked in crowded areas.

Edward C. Hilker has returned to Woodstock from a year's study in Brooklyn Polytechnic and is now employed on the road construction. The book committee of the library met Monday afternoon to receive book reading instruction. Waterfalls have been purchased and the committee plans to repair a number of books that have been in need of attention.

Mrs. Reckie Lepo was caught between the bumpers of her car and another recently, as the two were parked in front of the post office. Her car rolled forward on the uneven ground as she attempted to pass between the two. Her call for help brought G. Gausa, an engineer of the road work. Gus and Victor Shrader to push the car back before she was seriously hurt.

The "European Cinema" is operating at Firemen's Hall this Friday with "Poli de Carotte" ("Red Head"). Shows will be presented every Friday at 7 and 9 p. m. English titles are used.

Barney Newbaum was seen in Woodstock over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have opened their home in Rock City for the summer.

The strawberry festival given last week by the Christian Endeavor made a profit of about $15.

Mrs. Maude Mangold is recovering from a recent illness.

Everett Cashdollar is out on his milk route again after a slight illness.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hard-working Gub
New York—Herbert Olson has the easiest job in New York.

He is lifeguard for the floating hospital, the boat that makes daily trips down New York Harbor with children who need sunshine and fresh air.

Olson sits in a row boat tied to the stern of the vessel to be handy if one of the children falls overboard. He hasn't had to make a rescue yet, because the children are under heavy precautions.

Olson's job is done at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. For recreation he gets into a rowboat and rows around the harbor.

Bather Gets Cooler

Philadelphia—Marvin Franklin, 65, clad only in a purple bathing suit, sauntered past Patrolman James Robinson and headed in the direction of fashionable Rittenhouse Square.

"Just where," queried the astonished policeman, "do you think you're going? And at your age, too?" "I," said the man, "am going to Rittenhouse square for a swim in the fountain."

He was wrong. He went to the house of correction for 10 days.

Surprise!

Lock Haven, Pa.—Imagine Earl Hoover's surprise. He picked up his coat after work in a lumber camp and found a pocket full of copperhead snakes.

Hoover let go of the coat—fast. The snake crawled out some minutes later and Earl recovered the garment.

Hive

Muskogee, Okla.—A poison gas attack saved the Hardsell Nelson home from becoming just an oversized bee hive.

Returning from a shopping trip Mr. and Mrs. Nelson found swarming bees had taken possession of the two-story house. "Shooing" did no good, but the gas spray, recommended by the county farm agent, did the job.

Oil Troubles Waters

Casper, Wyo.—In this case it was the oil that troubled the waters. A pipe line broke, saturating sands adjacent to the North Platte river, Casper's municipal water supply.

Dutchman Has Many Uses for Popular Wood Shoes

The wooden shoe or klomp can take rank as a national institution in Holland. Fashioned usually out of poplar wood, it serves all kinds of uses, in addition to protecting the feet.

On the island of Marken they are more ornamental than elsewhere, but they are always picturesque to an American for all their seeming clumsiness.

The klomp does not, however, appear to bother the movements of a Dutchman, who can jump a stile without losing them. They can be, and are, used for the same purpose as a Britisher uses his flat, and even more effectively, for if a short and tall Dutchman have a quarrel they are on a more equal footing than if they tried to use their hands.

When the klompen are worn out, they make admirable boats for the children to sail on the canals.

A lock-keeper on the canals dangles a klomp at the end of a line over a boat into which the toll is dropped.—Boston Globe.

Rhode Island's Capital

Rhode Island in its early days had almost as many capitals as it had towns, as the general assembly met in circuit, first in one town and then in another. Finally, notes a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer, with the growth of the assembly the meeting places were reduced to two places, Providence and Newport, as the cities which could take care of so many extra people. For many years these two capitals were retained with the legislature opening its annual session in May at Newport, and after a few days adjourning for a more extended one at Providence, which began the following January. Since 1900 the legislature has met at Providence and the state's Constitution was so amended as to dispense with the Newport session.

William Penn's Baptismal Record

Visitors at the Church of All Hallows, Barking, England, may see the entry of William Penn's baptism in one of the old registers. It was in this church that John Quincy Adams, later President of the United States, was married in 1797. William Penn is buried in the cemetery of the old Quaker meeting house at Jordana, in Buckinghamshire. The gravestone of the founder of Pennsylvania stands hardly knee-high, and a newcomer to the little burial ground beneath the trees would never know how much American history lay there unless he stopped to read the name cut into the lichened stone.

Never Lived in His Castle

Standing on a hill near New London, Wis., is a 40-room house which keeps alive the story of Capt. Enos Drummond, who built the mansion in 1850, but was murdered before he carried out his plan of importing 40 slaves in order to live like a plantation gentleman, according to a writer in Harper's Weekly. Although the "Northwest Ordinance" prohibited slavery in Wisconsin, Drummond was said to have planned a secret system of slavery. He was killed just after the house was completed.

"Ravenously Hungry"

The word ravenously is derived from the verb raven which means: "To eat voraciously; prey upon; tear; as a beast of prey." These meanings do not necessarily involve hunger; they denote rather manner of appeasing greed. It is quite permissible, therefore, to employ the expression "ravenously hungry," indicating a hunger so intense that one would satisfy it by eating voraciously.—Literary Digest.

Blenheim Spanish

The Blenheim spaniel was always popular in the south of England, particularly in and around Oxfordshire in which Blenheim castle was constructed as a testimonial of gratitude to the duke from the English people after the Battle of Blenheim. The popularity was confined largely to the hunting people, who liked a small dog for hunting woodcock and other feathered game in the moor or less open country of that section.

Stephen Glenn Quilty Wins New Laurels

STEPHEN GLENN QUILTY

Stephen Glenn Quilty, composer, pianist, former resident here now living in Boston, is receiving congratulations on the conclusion of another successful season of concert work. This year Mr. Quilty has had more engagements than ever before to give pianoforte recitals of the works of great master musicians as well as his own. Catherine Cushman Leach, Boston critic of music, has summarized his work as follows:

It will be remembered that he played here a few years ago and won an ovation from an audience of 1,500 persons in the High School Auditorium. The young composer concluded his recital season this year with a concert in Monroe Hall, Boston, situated in the city's musical center, playing for many smart music lovers the works of Bach, Beethoven, Wagner, Liszt, Scriabine, and many of his own compositions both recent and early. An innovation on his program were the two numbers, "Red Tableau" and "White Tableau", wherein he portrayed the two colors in the titles through the medium of his music to the great interest of the audience which acclaimed this new departure in musical composition.

Assisting at the gala event was Norman de Raske, tenor, formerly with the Chicago Civic Opera Company and now preparing to sing at The Metropolitan Opera as a protégé of Mary Garden. Mr. Quilty wrote a song, "Nocturne", which the debonair young tenor successfully performed, this being its initial presentation as it was written especially to show the brilliant quality of the singer's work.

An informal reception was held during the intermission where patrons of the concert were received by the two artists. Among these were recognized such prominent Bostonians as Dean Frederick S. Converse of The New England Conservatory of Music, Mrs. George Cabot, Boston social leader, Paul H. Allen, noted American composer, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Dulaney Addison and Mrs. Charles Hunnewell. Mrs. C. Nicholas Greene, Charles Hammond Gibson, Dr. and Mrs. James Lothrop Stoddard, Mrs. F. Addison Porter, Miss Meriam Phillips Lawrence, Mme. May Shepard Hayward, Miss Marion Nichols and many other figures notable in the worlds of society and music.

As a result of this concert the composer received many engagements for the forthcoming season. In the customary manner a group of this year's crop of debutantes served as ushers lending the affair an added note of social grace.

Shortly after this affair, Mr. de Raske gave a song recital at which Mr. Quilty was guest soloist. This was given in the Women's Republican Club before a large audience numbering such notables as Governor Brann of Maine and Curley of Massachusetts, former Ambassador and Mrs. Lutz Anderson, Mrs. Alvin T. Fuller, wife of the former governor of the state, Mrs. Helen Ledyard Birch, Miss Mary Garden, who made a trip to Boston solely to hear Mr. de Raske, Princess Nina Ouspensky, noted Russian exile, Mrs. John T. Bottomley, Hallett Gilberty, Mrs. Moses Gulesian, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Havens, Mrs. Nelson Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Fabien Sevitzky, Mrs. Alexander Steiner, Judge Emma Schofield and Mme. Rose Zislihan, together with numerous others socially and professionally prominent. Compositions of Mr. Quilty's heard at the Kingston recital were given on this program along with works of the great masters. It being Mr. Quilty's custom to combine various periods in this manner.

This past season the young artist has been in great demand as concert pianist for many clubs, at private musicales and other functions, and has given any number of recitals throughout New England. Among the important organizations from which Mr. Quilty received return engagements are the Federation of Music Clubs, Women's City Club, the American Poetry Society, the Salon of Allied Arts, the British Poetry Society, the Community Church (meeting at Symphony Hall) and the Chromatic Club, also the New Thought Forum. In addition to this, the much-sought-after composer-pianist has a regular contract with two Boston radio stations to give pianoforte recitals of classical music and his own compositions every Sunday afternoon.

Young Quilty was born in this city in 1909 and lived here until 1927 when he removed to Boston. Here his musical talent brought him to the attention of Dean Frederick S. Converse of the New England Conservatory of Music, this greatest of living American composers becoming Mr. Quilty's sponsor and instructor for a period of several years. It was in 1923 that Mr. Quilty made his debut recital in Boston at the Hotel Victoria. From that time forward he was constantly in demand as a concert pianist and composer. An interesting event took place at his Hotel Opler Plaza recital in 1932 when Harry Elmore Hurd, nationally famous American poet and author of many books, was so inspired by the young player's rendition of his own pieces, he wrote a long epic poem dedicated to Stephen Glenn Quilty and entitled, "To a Young Composer," creating the poem during the concert. Upon its publication the poem was received with marked approval by literary critics throughout the country. Many are the noted musicians in Boston with whom Mr. Quilty has studied, eminent among these are Prof. Arthur Hilton Ryder, with whom he specialized in organ music and composition, Mme. May Shepard Hayward and the aforementioned Dean Converse. While living here he studied organ with Frederick Rittenberg and was an outstanding pupil of Miss Lina Schmidt, playing at many of her recitals with marked success. Miss Schmidt honored her distinguished pupil by attending his Boston recital of the year 1932, where she engaged him to play here at a concert sponsored by her. The companionship between teacher and student will be resumed this summer when as house guest of the Quilty family Miss Schmidt spends a holiday in Boston.

About The Folks

Mrs. Violet Smith of 126 Prospect street is convalescing at her home after an operation performed by Dr. Bush at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mrs. Arthur Carroll, who was taken seriously ill several days ago, has been removed from her home on O'Neil street to the Benedictine Hospital.

Among summer visitors in this city are Max Panteleff, noted Russian baritone and director of the Russian Opera Foundation, and his wife, also a famous opera singer, who under the name of Consuelo Cloos, is well known in the west. Mr. Panteleff was called to New York city on Thursday owing to rehearsals but hopes to return later, but Mrs. Panteleff, who is enraptured with our Colonial city, will remain for some time. While here they are stopping at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Otis M. Marshall, 83 Maiden Lane.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, July 5.—Judge Henry Winchell laid aside busy cares for the day Saturday, and went to the big circus at Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell Longyear arrived recently from Albuquerque, N. M. for a three weeks visit among relatives in their old home locality. Mr. Longyear, who is a retired school teacher, was obliged to seek the hot airy climate of the southwest. After two years in that far from home country he enjoys the robust health of his younger years. Mrs. Longyear is a niece of Mrs. Golden Van Benschoten of Hemlock Knoll, Shokan.

Mrs. Sarah Dwyer of West Shokan Heights is having her hay harvested. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Massimo of Bayside, L. I., have arrived for the season at their "High Point Cottage". Their son and family are also here over to Fourth of July week-end.

Three charming Lake Mohonk matrons, V. Elinor Fawcett, Marion Rutherford and George DeVoe, returned down Tuesday morning having breakfast with Mrs. Frank Roosa at High Point Springs Farm. Later, before returning to the mountain crest, via Kingston and Stone Ridge, they called on the genial hosts of Sunny Cliff, Judge and Mrs. Henry Winchell.

The grand and glorious Fourth passed rather serenely here. There was little in comparison to the excitement and crowds of the pre-revolutionary years which gathered at Crispell's Maple Grove and whooped it up generally. A doubleheader played between the famous Shokan baseball team and some husky opponents added to the celebrating. And during the evening a balloon ascension capped fittingly the climax.

There are numerous visitors noted hereabout taking life easy over the week-end. Community hostilities seem quite busy entertaining guests.

Farmer E. C. Davis has harvested the hay on the property of the Massimo brothers at West Shokan Heights.

Members of the Knorr family are expected to arrive the last of the week to spend the summer at their Main street property. They are residents of Brooklyn.

Martin J. Every made a special trip to Kingston Monday in order to have his spectacles repaired. They were broken when one of his affectionate and husky young turkeys caressed him too heavily as he was feeding the flock.

There will be Sunday school classes and preaching services at the West Shokan Church Sunday afternoon at 1 and 2 o'clock. The Gospel message will be presented by the Rev. Arnaldo Natino. There will be special singing.

Saturday evening is the date of the July installation of officers at Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge, Olive Bridge. A large attendance of members and visitors is expected.

Tuesday and Wednesday passers-by observed Judge Henry Winchell and his obliging neighbor, Otis Barringer, busily harvesting the well-seeded clover patches on the Judge's Sunny Cliff estate.

Stephen Hyatt of Kingston, nephew of Judge Henry Winchell, wife of Judge Winchell, recently made a trip to Pine Hill and inspected the scene of his future labors as school principal there. Mr. Hyatt is a recent graduate from New Paltz Normal School.

Several Indian Tribes

Once Owned Part of Ohio

It cannot be determined definitely just how long it has been since Indians inhabited Ohio, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Early in October, 1817, a treaty between the United States commissioners (Gov. Cass of the territory of Michigan and Gen. Duncan McArthur of Ohio) and the Indians who had possession of lands in the northwestern corner of the state, was concluded at Fort Meigs. The cession made by the Indians on this occasion nearly extinguished their title in the state.

One of the earliest tribes which inhabited Ohio was the Erie, or Cat tribe. They dwelt in the region south of the lake, in which they have given their name, and their country extended probably half way down the state.

The tribes living within the present boundaries of the state at the time the white settlement commenced were the Iroquois, who inhabited northeastern Ohio; the Shawnee, the entire southwestern part of the state; the Delaware, most of the region east of the Scioto; between the Scioto and Miami rivers were the Shawnee, while beyond lay the lands of the Miami, which extended westward into Indiana.

Various other tribes had occasional residence in the state—a remnant of the Mohicans who had united themselves with the Delaware, a few bands of the Senecas and Tuscarawas, and a single band of Onondagas.

Copenhagen, the City of Spires. There are so many spires and towers in Copenhagen, Denmark, that the capital of the Danes has been called the "City of Spires." The tallest spire surmounts the city hall. The Ericserk-vike is also famous for this feature, which has a curious spiral design. Then there is the notable Round tower, originally intended as an observatory, which is succeeded by a very wide spiral road, up which a horse and carriage can be easily driven.

Washington (AP)—The central great plains area, says the department of agriculture, is being made more completely suited to extensive livestock farming through the development of dwarf grain sorghums, a low-cost grain adapted to power machinery and thus to large-scale operations.

Three Dozen Varieties Of Taxes Are Spread Over Rich And Poor

Chicago, July 5 (AP)—Three dozen varieties of taxes, spread over rich and poor, corporations and "little fellows," gamblers and misers, supply revenue to the nation's state governments.

With all the different kinds of taxes, however, there are few state "freak" or nuisance levies, reports from 44 states showed today.

Taxes as a whole fall into a handful of general categories, property, automobiles and gasoline, sales, liquor, inheritance, incomes, luxuries and business transactions. But the diversification in types of taxes are many, with adjoining states frequently taxing the same thing in different manners.

The property tax, one of the oldest forms of assessment, is still widely used, although attempts are being made to find replacements.

The automobile has been a steadily increasing source of state revenue. First came property taxes on cars, then registration charges, and during the last 15 years, the mightiest of all vehicle levies, the gasoline tax. From an experiment in 1919, the fuel levy has grown until today it is used in every state and supplies an estimated 38 per cent of the states' direct tax revenue.

Resembling the gas tax in its growth to popularity, the sales tax is used in many states. Forms of this levy vary greatly. The principal ones are the gross sales tax, paid by the retailer, and the retail sales tax, commonly passed on to the consumer.

Numerous governments collect special taxes on cigarettes and tobacco, butter substitutes, malt extract and other specific articles.

Nearly all states where liquor is sold now realize something from it in the way of taxes.

All states have inheritance taxes. Income taxes have been called into use often in the last decade as state expenses increased.

A hangover from war days, amusement and luxury taxes exist in several states. An addition to this group is the gambling tax.

Business taxes include many forms of assessment. Some are levies on public utility property, mortgage and stock transfers, chain stores, billboards, ore royalties, special corporation and franchise taxes and a bushel tax on grain passing through elevators. There are also countless fees and license tolls for restaurants, theaters, hotels, fire inspection, scales and the like.

The poll tax is another old timer still in and now another type of "citizenship franchise" tax is appearing—the old age pension.

Nine Arrests Made Here Over Holiday

Nine arrests were made by the police department over the Fourth of July holiday. Frank Principe, 24, of 440 Washington avenue, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Clarence W. Freer charging Principe with assault in the third degree. This morning Judge Callahan on Principe's plea of not guilty adjourned the hearing until July 10, and bail of $50 was continued until that time.

Irving Yussen of New York, arrested on a charge of operating a car on Railroad avenue without having the necessary driving papers, gave bail for his appearance later in police court.

Mrs. Clara Schipp of North Front street, charged with passing a red light at Washington and Lucas avenues, was given a suspended sentence.

Leonard Hannigan, Henry Adams and Ben Davis, three Pennsylvania negroes, arrested on a charge of train riding, were given five days each in the county jail.

Frank Schmidt, Jr., of Walden was fined $10 for driving 46 miles an hour on Albany avenue.

Barnard Joy of Green street, arrested on a charge of double parking on Broadway explained that he had stopped his car in front of O'Reilly's news store and left the engine running with a licensed driver in the car and had stepped into the store after a newspaper. He was discharged.

Chris Lay of Smith avenue, arrested on a warrant sworn out by Bertha Thurn charging petit larceny, had his case held open.

Education Board Grants Appeal

Albany, July 4 (Special)—The appeals of Elinor Fawcner, of District No. 12, town of Olive, and Fred Geiselhardt, District No. 16, town of Wawarsing, Ulster county, asking that the trustees of their respective districts be directed to furnish transportation for academic pupils, have been sustained by State Education Commissioner Frank P. Graves.

In granting the appeals, Commissioner Graves directed the trustees of the districts to proceed at once to provide the desired conveyance, and to pay the cost out of any funds of the districts available for the purpose, subject to the approval of the district superintendents of schools and the State Education Department. In the event there are no funds available, the trustees are authorized to raise by tax, on the taxable property of the districts, a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the ordered conveyance.

"Accent on Youth"

How old is a man before his kisses fail to make the heart of the fairer sex go "pitty-pat"? It seems that he may be at least 60, if "Accent on Youth," which opened at the Maverick Theatre last night, is a criterion. With Frank Rothe in the role of Playwright Steven Gaye, a part which gave him the opportunity to exercise his fine talents to the best advantage; with a secretary, Linda Brown played to taste by Francesca Lennell, to furnish the youthful love, interest, and Stephen Sandes as the virile young man; a triangle of youthful feminine beauty, athletic young manhood and sophisticated and understanding middle age unfolded amid sparkling dialogue.

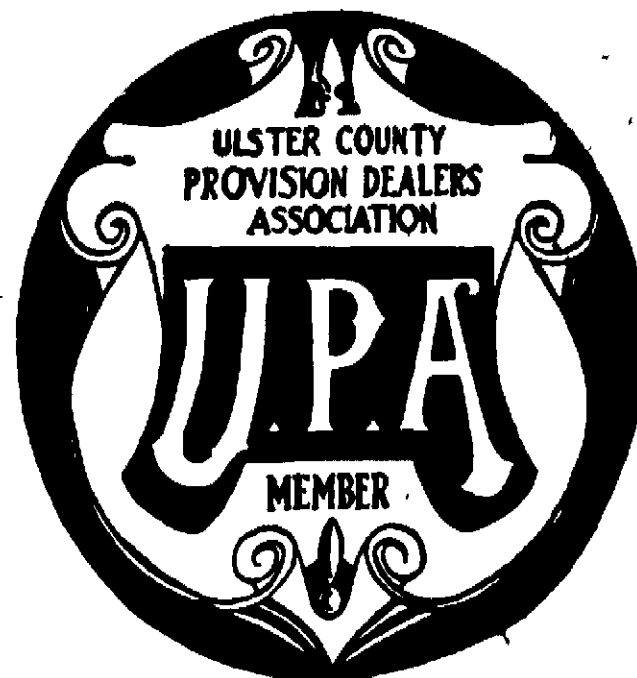

The plot concerns a middle aged man, a playwright, witty, full of experience, brilliant conversationalist and sophisticated, who foresees old age only a few years ahead. To him comes a longing for love and a last final fling. First an actress, and later his secretary touch his emotions and the secretary causes the dying embers of emotion to burst into flame. Enter a young man, who does everything better than the playwright save write a play, and breeding the call of youth he writes a love scene for the young fellow designed to win away his secretary. The two young people marry, the playwright returns to checkers and his pills, and then the secretary returns declaring her love.

So sparkling is the dialogue and so well acted are the various roles that "Accent on Youth" creates a new high for the artist colony troupe, managed by Robert Elwyn. Farrell Pally as the actor whose part makes him live anew; Mr. Rothe as the playwright who finally wins love; Miss Lennell as the secretary; Mr. Sandes as Dickie Reynolds, the virile young man; Donald McHenry as Floydell, the perfect butler; Harry Farrell as Genevieve Lang, Broadway star; and Lester Bacharach, George Makinson and Velma Royton in minor roles, make the play live so strongly that one forgets he is seeing a play and wonders if he is not looking over the transom into the lives of humans as they go along.

"Accent on Youth" as presented at the Maverick Theatre is recommended to wash away the cares of the day and provide an evening of splendid entertainment.—R. K. H.

Police Chief Howard M. Travis said Buntz admitted shooting the girl and attempting to take his own life as a jealous rage after accusing her of associating with other men. Buntz has been separated from his wife for several years and Mrs. Burrows, the chief said, has not lived with her husband, Ralph Burrows of New York for some time.

Formosts Trounce Dairymen, 10-5, In City League Contest

Taking advantage of ragged playing and hitting at the opportune moment enabled Formosts to submerge Ad Jones' Dairymen at the Athletic Field, Wednesday evening in a City League contest. The score was 10 to 5 and the defeat spoiled whatever chance the Dairymen had of coping the first half. They are now occupying the cellar with the Formosts.

Long-distance hitting featured the contest, two homers and three doubles being manufactured. Pres Knight hit the first circuit clout and received the case of Burgomaster donated by Fitzgerald Bros. Hanley contributed the other circuit clout, while Purvis, Merritt and Martin pooled doubles.

Jimmy Merritt pitched for Formosts, while Jack Dodge tossed them over for the Dairymen.

The Formosts scored three runs in the third inning, four in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh. The Dairymen's run came in the fourth and seventh frames.

GAME TONIGHT

The crucial game of the first half will be staged at the Athletic Field this evening when Hercules' Powdermen meet the North Rondout Social Club. The Powdermen are leading the rest of the pack and a win for them will almost give them the first half. If they should win tonight they will need but one game to clinch it. The Rondouts, who are in second place, can't afford to lose as it would mean their last chance to win the first half. Eddie Scherer will do the pitching for the Powdermen with Al Short on the receiving end and Julius Chik or Joe Boots are available for the pitching assignment. "Moose" Tiano will be the receiver.

Senecas, Playing for Mount Tremper, Trim Saugerties V-8's

The Kingston Senecas, representing the Mt. Tremper Sports Association, won their first game for that organization by outslugging the Saugerties V-8's, 15-10, yesterday at Mt. Tremper.

A big, eleven run rally in the second inning was enough for the Association team to coast to an easy victory. In this stanza Freleigh opened with a single and Joe Mahar blasted one far to right for the circuit.

Lamb flied to center, Purvis walked. Hanley and Duffin singled to score Purvis, and Murdock rapped one to center to tally Hanley and Duffin. Roosa erred on Scherer's grounder, moving Murdock to third. Carr drove in Murdock with a one-second to right and Freleigh, up for the second time, reached first on a fielder's choice. Scherer scoring with Carr when the catcher let the ball get by him. Mahar singled for his second hit of the inning and Lamb slapped a homer to right to tally Freleigh and Mahar ahead of him to end the scoring for the frame.

Mahar retired in the fifth after allowing eight runs and Dodge, who replaced him, gave up two in the final frame.

Next Sunday the Association team will play the Berard A. C. of East Kingston at Mt. Tremper.

St. Remy Nine Defeats Glasco Firemen, 18-7

Thursday afternoon on the St. Remy diamond, the St. Remy A. C. chalked up a one sided victory over the Glasco Firemen, 18-7. During the first five innings the game was hotly contested but in the sixth, the winners opened up with a five run barrage which had the Firemen on their heels. Eight more tallies followed in the next two frames and the game was on ice.

Emil Bock was on the mound for the A. C. and allowed the Firemen 10 hits.

On Sunday afternoon the St. Remy boys will open a five game series with the North Rondout Social Club, at St. Remy. Geisler and Messinger will work for the A. C.

Peacock Stars as New York Athletic Club Beats Olympics

Lincoln, Neb., July 5 (AP)—Eulace Peacock, a Temple University negro sophomore, today stood beside Ralph Metcalfe and Jesse Owens in the top flight of American track and field competition.

Peacock, compact piece of athletic machinery who chased Owens to the tape in the N. C. A. A. in the national senior A. A. U. championships yesterday flashed to a decisive victory over Owens and Metcalfe in the 100-meter event.

And before incredulous thousands had ceased roaring their tribute, this same Eulace Peacock hurled his body through the air 26 feet 3 inches in the broad jump to again steal a victory from Owens in an event in which the Ohio State star was considered supreme.

Even the feat of the New York Athletic Club in winning its fourth straight team championship in the face of stern competition from the Olympic Club of San Francisco paled into insignificance beside Peacock's performance.

The New York A. C. scored 45 points and the Olympic Club 39. Peacock's rise to fame came with the dazzling flash of a skyrocket piercing a black sky. One moment a half dozen athletes, keyed to concert pitch, were prancing at the starting line, making several false starts in their nervous eagerness.

The next moment the thousands of eyes watching Metcalfe and Owens saw another flying figure sweep abreast, then pull into the lead. It was Peacock, and his time of 10.2 equalled the world record. Metcalfe was second, about a foot back, and Owens was in third place bare inches behind Metcalfe.

A brisk, gusty wind that ranged from 7 to 11 miles an hour most of the afternoon probably robbed Peacock of recognition for his record time.

Owens gave everything he had in his final broad jump, but the best he could get was three-quarters of an inch short of Peacock's mark.

Metcalfe, who was bidding for his third consecutive grand slam in the sprint, received a measure of consolation in the 200-meter event, which he won in 21 seconds flat to better his own meet record of 21.3 around a turn. However, it was not expected this mark would stand because of the wind.

Chips are flying and axes are ringing in the New England forest lanes in preparation for the third annual New England Championship Woodchopping Contest and the Second Annual CCC Woodchopping and Woodsawing Contests that will be a feature of Forestry Day, Thursday, September 13, at the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass.

STANDINGS

By the Associated Press.

Going on the time-honored though often disproved theory that the teams which hold the lead after July 4 are the ones likely to be on the top at the finish, New York fans still can look forward to their ideal of a World Series on a five-cent subway fare.

The Yankees apparently will have quite a battle, though, to bring it about.

The Independence Day double-headers made the Yanks' hold on the American League lead look rather shaky, as they had to work their hardest to gain an even break with the fifth-place Boston Red Sox. The rumpus Detroit Tigers slammed their way to two more victories over Cleveland and cut New York's lead to two games.

After Lefty Grove shackled them with seven hits to give Boston a 4-3 victory, the Yanks called on another southpaw, Vernon Gomez, who came through with brilliant four-hit flinging while the league leaders smashed out a 7 to 1 decision.

The Tigers had to go eleven innings to beat Cleveland 6 to 5 in the opener, but won the second 10 to 4. It was the Tigers' seventh straight victory and their fifth over the Indians, who sank to fourth place as Chicago's White Sox belted over the Browns twice 11 to 6 and 4 to 0.

The Athletics also were double winners, beating Washington 6 to 3 and 2 to 1 to take sixth place away from the Senators.

In contrast to this struggle the Giants' National League lead stretched to nine games—the longest so far—as they trimmed the Braves twice. The Cardinals routed the Cubs to climb back into second place and drop Chicago to fourth. The Pirates moved up a notch to third by splitting their bargain bill with Cincinnati.

The Giants had a bit of a struggle in the opener but rallied to win 10 to 8 and then hammered out a 12 to 3 decision that gave Hal Schumacher his tenth straight victory.

After three hits off Charley Root in the twelfth inning, the Cards went on to a triumph over Chicago, they went on to win another close one 6 to 4 for Dizzy Dean, who chalked up his 12th hurling triumph with the aid of four Cub errors.

The Pirates belted out 16 hits to take the opener 9 to 5 but Billy Myers' homer with two on won the second game for the Reds, 5 to 4.

The Phillies took two hard games from Brooklyn by the home run route. John Moore's 14th homer brought a 3 to 2 victory in the opener. Two circuit swats by George Watkins and Dolph Camilli's 17th figured largely in the second clash, which Philadelphia won 8 to 7 on a four-run rally in the tenth.

Kaslich A. C. and Hurons Split in Bill, Rosendale Diamond

At Kristic Farm in Rosendale the Kaslich A. C. split a double header yesterday with the Huron Indians.

Due to a shortage of pitchers the Indians had to use their third baseman as center fielder for the first game. Although they lost, the two boys came through in good shape. Snyder, Huron's regular third sacker, allowed five hits but had to let C. A. finish the game. Neff allowed two hits. Davis was in for the full game for the A. C. and allowed eleven hits. Charles Tiano, the long reliever for the Kaslichs, got a strong windup for three bases and a single hit counted for a run. Kelday got four hits out of five trips for the Hurons.

The Hurons took the second game 12-7. Kelday and C. Neff accounted for three hits apiece while Chambers, with a triple and single and no with a triple and double paced A. C.

As a result of yesterday's score, the two teams are now tied at 2-all in their series.

Jim (Ripper) Collins, the Cardinals' first baseman, who led the National League in "slugging" in 1934 with a total base percentage of .615 and tied with Mel Ott, of the New York Giants, in the race for home run honors with a total of 35, appears well on his way to improve on his marks of last year.

In 60 games the Cardinal slugger had driven in 64 runs and was leading his league with 16 home runs. He had quite a streak of home run hitting when he blasted out five circuit clouts in the same number of consecutive games.

Moving along at its present gait Collins has more than a fair chance of equalling Hack Wilson's high water mark of 130 runs batted in.

In the American League Hank Greenberg is making a grand bid for the slugging honors of his league. Like Collins, the Tigers' first sacker is setting the pace for runs batted in and home runs, with totals of 78 and 19 respectively at the 60-game mark.

It's an old baseball adage that pitchers are not supposed to be good batters but a quick glance at the season's batting averages certainly tends to disprove this theory. Six of the eight batters at the top of the American League figures are pitchers. And five of them are hitting well over .400.

Ostermuller, of Boston; Salveson, of Chicago; Wesley Ferrell, of Boston; Hudlin, of Cleveland; and Ruffing, of New York, are the twirlers who seem to have no great difficulty solving their fellow craftsmen's services.

Pinch-Hitting Hurriers

Ferrell, Hudlin and Ruffing have often been called on to serve as pinch hitters. There was a time when Wesley Ferrell was suffering from a sore arm that he gave the thought of turning outfielder on the strength of his fine batting eye.

In the National League pitchers like Haines, of St. Louis; Fitzsimmons, of New York; Frey, of Cincinnati; and Hoyt, of Pittsburgh, wield potent bats that come in mighty handy when runs are needed to win their own ball games.

Of course there are plenty of hurriers who have no batting eye at all and make no effort to improve their hitting. Fellows like Gomez and Broaca, of the Yankees and Zachary and Babich of the Dodgers are lucky to connect with a dozen safe blows in an entire season.

More Young 'Uns For Reds

The Cincinnati Reds had a lot of courage to start the season with a couple of green kids as their regular combination around second base. Billy Myers, at shortstop, teamed up beautifully with Alex Kampouris, at second base with the happy result that the Reds now boast one of the slickest double-play combinations operating in the senior league.

Charley Dresen's youngsters aren't going to win a pennant this year or even next but they have shown that they are capable of playing a fine brand of baseball and promise better things before long. As it is Dresen has lifted Cincinnati out of the cellar and in doing so has managed to attract a fair number of customers into Redland field to watch his youngsters perform.

That the Reds seem satisfied that they are following the right path in banking on a team of young prospects is borne out by their recent move of buying Emmett Nelson, a big right hander, from Los Angeles. The 26-year-old Dane is one of the best seasoned pitchers on the coast and is reputed to have a fine assortment of curves along with excellent control.

The Reds certainly have room for a pitcher of that stamp.

Brewers Tame Krazy Kats by 15-3 Count

The Barmann Brewers sprung one of the most sensational upsets in soft balldom yesterday by trouncing the highly-touted Krazy Kats at Barmann's lot, 15-3.

The Krazy Kats, boasting of such well-known athletes as Herb Van Deusen, Bun Chilson and others, were completely outclassed by the youthful aggregation. Grabbing an early lead the Brewers runk up their 15th victory in 21 starts against top notch opposition. Bill Thomas and Ben Toffel clouted home runs and T. Brooks and Geoghan triples for the Brewers, while Bun Chilson collected three singles and Van Deusen a triple for the Krazy Kats. T. Brooks performed sensationally at shortstop while the Brewers' outfield patrol functioned smoothly, handling 13 putouts.

Large Crowd Attends Fights at Wallkill

A large crowd of fight fans assembled at the Wallkill Prison ring-side last evening to witness the boxing bouts staged in celebration of the Fourth.

In the main fight, Johnny Peters of Wallkill scored a technical KO over Jimmy Lafferty of West Point in the second round.

In the semi-final go, Big Bill Freeman of Kingston and West Point took the decision from George Greenowicz in five rounds.

Bill Singer was the third man in the ring. The next Wallkill boxing card will be presented in the Prison ring on the night of July 19.

Saucerettes Man Held

Carl Hanks, 67, of Saugerties, was committed to the Ulster county jail Wednesday to await a hearing before Justice Charles H. Bennett on a charge of assault in the third degree. Lack of complete harmony between Hanks and his wife he said to be responsible for the incident which led to arrest.

Fred Perry Regains Wimbledon Crown

Wimbledon, Eng., July 5 (AP)—Fred Perry, dashing British star of the courts, captured the all-England tennis championship for the second successive year today, defeating Baron Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 in the final round.

Although Von Cramm battled the Briton every inch of the way he never had a chance against the black-haired champion. At every vital point Perry had the shots he needed to win and Von Cramm consistently was smashing drives.

Perry, a heavy favorite from the start, lived up to his reputation as the world's greatest amateur. He dominated the match throughout and never looked like anything but a certain winner.

Von Cramm, first German to reach the finals since Otto Froitzheim was beaten by the great Australian, Norman Brookes, in the 1914 championship round, definitely was outclassed by a player who could make no mistakes today.

Perry's victory enabled Great Britain to salvage one of the two major Wimbledon titles. The other, the women's singles championship, definitely is lost up the homeland for the finalists tomorrow will be America's two great feminine aces, Helen Jacobs, United States champion, and Helen Wills Moody, former world's title-holder.

Games went to 5-3 behind services. Perry had match point in the ninth game but Von Cramm produced three blasting serves, two of them aces, to save the game.

It only delayed the issue, however, for Perry served out in the next game. Von Cramm knocked the deciding point over the baseline after a long rally. The crowd gave the German a big hand as he walked off the court.

Equity Term Here Will Begin July 15

Parties with equity cases on the supreme court calendar will be given an opportunity to try them this month before Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schrick who will hold an equity term beginning Monday, July 15, at the court house here.

During the trial terms when a jury is present there are frequent requests to try equity cases and often requests are made for a day certain. When a jury is in attendance this is an almost impossible request. It is in order to give counsel who desires to dispose of any equity case now on the calendar an opportunity to have a trial, that Justice Schrick is offering to hear cases in July. If there is sufficient business the equity calendar will be continued for two weeks.

Counsel will have the opportunity to set down any equity case on the calendar for a day certain.

Like the old fable, "Mary's Little Lamb," so it seems that the "Kingston Daily Freeman" is following Mr. Rabin "wherever he goes."

Rabin's Clothing Credit Store of 45 North Front street, has just received a clipping appearing on page 8 of last night's Freeman, in which precautions are suggested in connection with the Fourth of July celebration. In this letter from Mr. Rabin, who is now in New York sending on special clothing selections for the warm weather season, to which this clipping was appended, advises that the store carry out every suggestion embodied in the news column.

It is certainly gratifying to learn that Kingston's prominent merchants, though on busy and important missions, find time for their favorite local paper.

MINTS HAD BUSY YEAR

TREASURY REPORT SHOWS.

Washington, July 5 (AP)—The mints had one of the busiest years in their history during the fiscal twelve months just ended. The treasury reports a domestic output of 608,414,207 pieces of currency, valued at $39,131,127.

This compares with 46,634,250 coins in the 1934 fiscal year, with a value of $3,499,125.

The largest calendar year production in the last decade occurred in 1929 when the output was 385,582,950, with a value of $5,225,400. This, however, included gold coins, since abandoned. The gold coins were largely responsible for the high value.

In addition to the domestic coinage for the last fiscal year, the mints produced 68,500,401 pieces for several Latin-American governments.

Silver dollar coinage was resumed last year after being suspended since 1928. A total of 5,635,557 silver dollars was turned out during the period, but the heaviest demand was for the smaller coins.

The total number of coins included 412,266,000 pennies; 61,982,003 nickels, 69,413,000 dimes; 40,908,252 quarters and 18,212,395 half dollars.

Feldman's Hearing Is Set for July 16

Samuel Feldman, storekeeper, at 76-78 Crown street, was arrested Wednesday evening following a visit by federal prohibition agents and a representative of the local A. B. C. Board and held in bail in the sum of $1,000 by U. S. Commissioner Arthur C. Connolly for arraignment this morning. When arraigned this morning at 10 o'clock Feldman appeared with John M. Cashin, counsel, and asked for a hearing. Bail was continued in the sum of $1,000, and a hearing was granted for July 16, at 11 o'clock.

The complaint of the agents who visited the store on Crown street and conducted the search alleges violation of sections 3281, 3317, 3322 and 3452 of Title 26, United States Revised Statutes and also Regulation 13, Article 7 of the Liquor Taxing Act of 1934, by failure to pay occupational tax; unlawfully rectifying liquor and failure to file a report thereof; by changing stamps or brands on packages; by possessing property with intent to sell in violation of law or to evade taxes by re-using bottles and packages. Agents allege the place was a "cutting plant" and that there was a failure to destroy original bottles as required after the contents had been used.

HAUPTMANN TRIAL COST NEW JERSEY $125,000

Trenton, N. J., July 5 (P)—It's pay day for the Hauptmann jurors. What's more, the jurors hopes of getting double pay—$6 a day for 43 days service—have been realized.

After 20 weeks of waiting while the legislature passed a supplemental appropriation bill to cover additional trial expenses, the comptroller's office forwarded today to Sheriff John H. Curtis, of Hunterdon county a check which included $258 for each of the 12 jurors.

The usual rate of $3 was doubled because the jurors were locked up each night.

Other bills for the Hauptmann trial are being paid daily from the $75,000 special appropriation. The comptroller's office, however, has been directed not to make them public.

The total cost of the trial, paid by the state, was $125,000.

Y. M. C. A. Camp Has Good Enrollment

Camp Preumaker, July 3—Camp Preumaker, Kingston's Y. M. C. A. Camp for boys, began its 1935 season yesterday with a total enrollment of 51 boys and leaders. One of the first contingents to arrive in camp was a bus load of 20 boys from the Junior Rotary Club. These boys, members of the group sponsored at the "Y" by the Kingston Rotary Club, will be the Rotary Club's guests at the camp until July 9.
All of the boys lost no time in getting acclimated to camp life, and although camp is still young, activities are in full swing. Many boys have already passed their swimming and boat tests under the direction of Coach C. Warren Kias. Crafts Director Cliff Van Valkenburgh, Jr., has started a number of the boys on various handicraft projects, while Frank Smith, Jr., has played the role of Robin Hood, instructing his men in the art of archery, and Harry Gumaer has interested a number of boys in the study of the stars, planets and constellations. With an improved baseball diamond, many of the boys are getting anxious for some matched games but so far the coach has held his charges to practice. A camp game of playground ball last evening, however, proved a dandy with one of the teams staging a last thing rally to win by the score of 11 to 10.
First week campers are: Jacob Myers, Harry, John and Clarence Rowland, Robert Graham, Philbert Feltig, Alfred Gumaer, Charles and Calvin Carlson, John McCullough, Harold Canfield, Robert Van Valkenburgh, Robert Glanz, George Wicks, George Stork, John Divine, James Divine, Robert Mutterstock, Harold Watrous, Robert Coutant, Edgar Ugarte, John Mayone, Aaron Gallop, Kenneth Ramsey, Roy Mayone, Clarence Post, Samuel Kevan, Henry Kelly, Jack Kelly, Ferrell McElvair, Fred Longendyke, John Longendyke, Clayton Stalter, Robert Harvey, Charles Rion, Jack Schulz, Hunter Cohen, William Meller, William Carlson, Clarence Markle, James Decker, Roy Schechter, Wellington Beckert, Leo Smith, Tyler Hughes, Eugene Donnelly, Harry Gumaer, Frank Smith, Jr., Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Leon Taylor and N. H. Fuller.

POST-MIDNIGHT NUPTIAS ARE A GROWING VOGUE

New York, July 5 (AP)—Post-midnight nuptials at a "Gretna Green" are a growing vogue in New York society.

In the last eight months, a great-granddaughter of a railroad magnate and a sister-in-law of an ex-king's daughter became Gretna Green brides; so did a debutante of two seasons back and a graduate of an ultra-fashionable finishing school. Half a dozen young men from the social register were partners to recent elopements.

The philosophy behind these spur-of-the-moment marriages as explained by Daniel Lord, 26, socially prominent young banker, who married Donna Christiana Torlonia, daughter of European nobility, at 2 a. m. after a motor dash to a marriage parlor.

"We were at dinner one night and got to joking about matrimony," he said. "We just decided it would be a good idea, then and there. We were both opposed to a formal wedding."

In marked contrast to their elopement, Christiana's brother, Don Alessandro, married the Spanish infanta with formal pomp.

Last season's leading Gretna Green bride from society was Anne Gould, descendant of the late Jay Gould, railroad builder, who was married in the early morning at Harrison, N. Y., to Frank A. Meador, a little known actor.

Twenty Nancy Marcher, finishing school graduate, daughter of the W. Storrs Marcher, eloped with Bernard Henry Wood, 24, of Long Island and was married at Harrison.

Another pair from the social register—Nancy Low and James Hoyt, Jr.—announced their engagement formally, then telephoned their parents: "Meet us in St. Bartholomew's church. We are marrying at once."

Forty-four midnight marriages took place last year at Harrison, says Town Clerk William A. Widling. "and so far this year, we've had two dozen."

Now Is Time to Get the Ragweed

Ithaca, N. Y., July 5.—"To reduce hay fever get after the rag weed now! Don't wait until the pollen begins to fly," urges Professor W. C. Muenschner of the New York state college of agriculture.

"Most folks," he says, "do not think about hay fever until the ragweed pollen starts flying through the air and they hear sniffles. By that time it is too late to do much about it except to take a vacation in some place free from ragweed.

"The common ragweed begins to shed pollen around the end of July. Now most of the plants are less than one foot high and may be pulled easily. Destroy them in lot, garden, field, or meadow. Mow them, cut them down, hoe them off, or pull them out before they begin to shed pollen. Get your neighbors to do the same. If you live in a city, town, or village, organize the residents for the battle and approach the municipal authorities for support in destroying ragweeds in vacant lots, waste places, streets, and public places," Professor Muenschner advises.

"Many thousands of persons in New York state are subject to hay fever. Most of them suffer from autumn attacks. About nine-tenths of these cases are caused by ragweeds. These plants, and others produce enormous quantities of pollen which is scattered by the wind in all directions. Persons who are susceptible to ragweed hay fever may come in contact with the pollen as they walk through fields, as they drive along highways, or as they sleep in bedrooms with ordinary screens over the windows."

Three Periods of Suffering
"Plants that cause hay fever may be grouped into three periods, based on when they cause the most suffering. The first period begins in April and continues into June when such trees as willows, poplars, oaks, elms, birches, and alders shed their pollen. Very few persons suffer from hay fever from these pollens.

The second period begins in June and extends through July when many of the grasses and cereals shed pollen. In New York the most prevalent hay fever grasses begin to shed their pollen in the following order: Sweet vernal grass, June grass or Kentucky blue grass, orchard grass, red top, and timothy.

"The third and most troublesome hay fever period lasts from the middle of August until the first killing frosts. The ragweeds, false ragweeds, marsh elders, and cocklebur are the worst offenders. All of them produce and shed enormous amounts of wind-borne pollen, often until the first killing frosts.

"The common or small ragweed," says Professor Muenschner, "is native throughout most of the state except in the Adirondack mountains and in the higher parts of the Catskills. It is an annual plant from two to three feet high, and produces finely divided, dull-green, rough
